The vote stood on the adoption of the amendment twenty-seven yess, and eighten mays. The bill goes into effect, if it becomes a law, on the 1-t day of April next, after which date there will be no allowance for drawbacks, on account of internal tax paid." The off refluers may think themsolves fortunate in securing an abatement of the tax when the Senate had just refused to take off the tax on refined sugar, by a vote of twenty-four to Itwenty, though Morgan and Johnson, both strongly urged the latter reduction. Mr. Morgan argued that the capital invested in sugar refineries would be rendered useless, and housands of men thrown out of employment. unless this sugar refiners lax was taken off, but reduced the supplied invested in suggest endoments of men thrown out of supplyment, unless this sugar reduces the was laters of, the thin distriction between sugar and oil is that the one is a lawny and the other an evelful and users are paticle of consumption, while the lack is becoming more plabuble every day that our oil reconstructing the fitte reduction of the supplied of to reconstructing the fitte reduction of the supplied of the supplied of the reduction of the supplied of the supplie this mode of taxallon, is extremely limited, and what is their objection to the terrible dangers at cuding its improper use? h is supposed that benzine and the lighter products of pencicum are almost valueless in be hands of the refluer; this is a great mistake, as the refiner has it in his power to neutralize the hearing by the channel intermixture of hearier hydro-carbons, as is done in what is termed the old process: This merely consists in adding stearing, or other analogous heavy by dro-carbons to the benzine, after being properly prepared until it stands the fire test 110 deg. Far. Every drop of bearing can thus be saved, neutralized and so incorporated with the other oil as to ren der it non explosive. A tax on these volulle products would stimulate a more universal adop tion of this process by refiners, which is not a all expensive and preventing large quantity of the explosive article being let loose on the mar-

The last mentioned process has been taken adcantugued by parties who famish receipts for making cheap illuminating off warranted not to expicate; this practice is reprehensible and dangerous, as, although in experienced and practical hands, benziue, gasolive, &c. can be made to stand the fire test of 110 deg., and even more still the too universal introduction of this pagetice, among the unskilled near Inevitably result in even a larger amount of oil reaching the consumer in a dangerous condition. A tax on benzine would check this evil effectually, as it is the cheapness of benzine which enables it to be min uncarries of beneath which characters a to send unactured for a less pince than common reflued oil; and the more benzine there is in it, the cheaper it can be made. The temptalion to make an inferior and dangerous oil is therefore very frong. This illigitimate use of these explusive compounds, is proving highly injurious to the oil business, proventing the introduction of reflact oil into new channels, and reducing the ordinary consumption. It is therefore to the interest of oll men generally, not merely to have the fax re-moved from refined oil, of a legitimate standard, but to have a fax placed upon all the more dangarone products. It is sincerely to be hoped that longress may take these facts into considera-

Imprisonment and fines will be main their for similar distributions, and the suspending of a Journal will no longer he surject to the whim of a minister. A judge slone will continue to decide upon the crimes and missicentanors of the press. The fire broke out at the Sheridan well at an early hour on Sunday morning, and before the flance, could be quenched they had communicated to two large wooden lank of the Runcie well on Lease No. 33. These three tanks contained in the aggregate about serenteen hundred barrels of oll. Shortly after taking fire the tanks burst and the burning oil ran into the Run and onto the Northern Light Petroleum Company's property, where the rig of the new well on Lease 45, and two tanks and four hundred barrels of oil were consumed. A part of the burning oil ran down the Run 10ward the Creek, but formately, a dam had been constructed across the Run which checked the farther spread of the fire. The loss on the Bennchoff Run Petroloum Company's property Is set down at about $5,500, and that on the Northern

Editors Horning Herald:

If appearances were to be trusted, the state of France at the present moment, reveals peaus abroad, and no dissatisfaction at home. This journals would appear, for the fast mouth at least, to confirm this eccentry, and the conversations of the clubs, cale's and salons, to support it. As claewhere, Paris dences on a volcano. The vant of bread is felt saverely throught the country—the agricultural population abandons its fields for the town, where industry is at a stand still, commetce declining, and financial matters nearly at a dead-lock, while the cares of the bank are full of that money, which ought to find its way not the business-channels of the country. In the town of the country is a continuously the country in the dead-lock, while the cares of the bank are full of that money, which ought to find its way not the business-channels of the country. The tage chaest of President Johnson. The London Times, commenting on the impachment of Fresident Johnson, says:

Alls popularly will certainly not be increased if the impachment should begat down. Congress, however, was almost compelled to try this last researce. There was so much to lose by giving way so the Fresident that it would have been management to a total defeat. The leaders have come to the conclusion that they may as well increased in the conclusion that they may as well increased will probably have no more effect on Mr. Johnson than it had in times past. He would have prefer removal by farme to be log made the instrument of carrying out measures which are kateful to him.

Newspaper ARCHIVE®

The Delly News says:

The resolution undoubtedly makes a serious crisis is the affairs of the Republic, although the issue of the contest can hardly be doubtful. The President, who has violated the law of the land in attempting to displace the Secretary of Wan, is not likely to sli still under imprechment; left is in thour real power. Atthough a powerful minority seeks to use him for its own parposes, his capacity is too much discredited for any party to make his cause its own, and he is too mear the end of his term of officers make it worth any one's while to stand or ratt with his political fortunes. Mr. Johnson, however, will probably be the last man in the Republic to discover this, and, in the meantime to his blinding egotism everything is possible.
